What we do:

As a hub for area social services, we:

- coordinate bi-monthly
- publish an annual service directory
- maintain our area partnership with 211 Connect-to-help

As a fundraiser for regional nonprofits, we:

- help area residents efficiently donate
- honor donors' wishes by distributing to our partners
- contribute to 501 (c) 3 organizations of donor choice

As a service for area residents, we:

- fight for health, education, and financial security
- assist volunteers in finding placements
- refer neighbors to necessary services

As a community resource, we:

- reach out to our residents, clients, service agencies, and employers
- work to address and overcome community obstacles
- encourage our neighbors to participate, contribute, and take pride in our hometown

What you can do:

White County United Way operates under the motto that "every little bit counts," and under the belief that every person in our community benefits when they serve others. We help our

Happiness springs from doing good and helping others. - Plato

community members find that "little bit" that means the most to them. You can act toward the United effort for a stronger White County when you:

- Give at work: choose payroll deductions to support our collective impact. If payroll deductions are not available, ask to add them; we can help.
- Give online: we accept donations year-round through our website and Facebook.
- Volunteer: the WC UW can use your expertise, or we can find an agency that needs the talent only you possess; call for a consultation.
- Support our programs: donate coats, holiday gifts, or school supplies to support our programming; donations can be allocated to your choice programs.
- Serve others: be an ambassador to your families, workplaces, and networks about the need for community involvement. We can help you organize!
- Join our mailing list: contact us by email to get updates on upcoming events and service opportunities.
- Follow us on social media: share our good news, volunteer opportunities, and program information with your friends online.

Consider White County United Way your liaison to service agencies and those who need you.
